Dear Mr Wright,

Please be advised that as part of the 'Movember' 2009 campaign I registered to raise money for Men's health. As the Minister responsible for the development of Australia's first Male Health Policy, I felt it important to take part in this admirable movement. As such, I sought to raise funds, for which in return I would shave off my moustache.

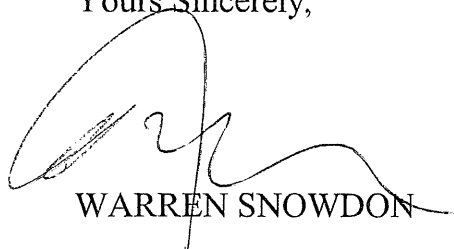

For my part, over the course of 'Movember' and up until 14 December 2009, I raised a total of $8,910. Donations were made via my Movember profile page at <http://au.movember.com/mospace/344612>

This webpage lists the details of each amount made towards my fund raising attempt, along with the description entered by the individual or organisation making the donation.

All the funds I have raised are handled by the Movember Foundation Australia, who I understand donates these funds to charity. The Movember Foundation Australia website lists the charities to which they donate funds raised, which includes organisations such as beyondblue – the national depression initiative and the Prostate Cancer Foundation, as well as funding other men's health promotion activities.

Should you have any questions about the information provided above please feel free to contact my office on (02) 6277 7380.
